Brief Description with Outcomes:

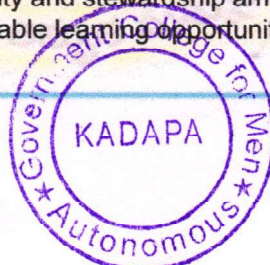

On November 27, 2022, the NCC unit organized a plantation drive on the campus grounds with several objectives in mind.

Firstly, to combat rising temperatures and enhance humidity levels, creating a more comfortable environment. Secondly, to mitigate noise pollution for neighboring households, fostering a peaceful atmosphere.

Lastly, to address air pollution and dust by leveraging the natural capacity of trees and shrubs to act as sinks for pollutants.

During the program, dedicated staff members planted saplings both within and around the campus, contributing to environmental preservation efforts. Through active participation, students gained a firsthand understanding of the benefits of campus plantation. They learned how such initiatives can significantly impact temperature regulation, noise reduction, and air quality improvement. This hands-on experience not only raised awareness about environmental conservation but also instilled a sense of responsibility and stewardship among the students towards safeguarding their surroundings. Overall, the program served as a valuable learning opportunity, empowering students to make a positive difference in their environment.
