Brief Description with Outcomes:

The NCC unit organized a fantastic initiative to promote cleanliness and environmental responsibility on campus. Engaging students in activities like removing garbage and waste plastic not only contributes to a cleaner environment but also instills a sense of responsibility and awareness about the impact of littering. Encouraging habits like these early on can go a long way in fostering a culture of cleanliness and sustainability.

Plus, it's great to see the event aligning with the age-old adage "cleanliness is next to godliness," emphasizing the importance of maintaining a clean environment for our well-being. Kudos to everyone involved in making the campus a cleaner and greener place.
